

Supplementary data

How does the Green Industry Policy Impact a Developing Country? A Case Study of the Electronic Products and Electrical Equipment Manufacturing Sector in Thailand

Table S1. Summarized questionnaire

Section 1: Questions used to elicit demographic information concerning the SMEs	Close-ended
1. Product category 2. Number of employees 3. Capital 4. Operation period
Section 2: GI performance	Close-ended
1. Does your organization certified GI? 2. What is the GI certified level? 3. What is the theme of organization's policy? 4. What are the environmental practices which your organization implement?
Section 3: How important is each of factors for GI implementation in your organization?	Seven-point scale (1=total important; 7=total unimportant)
1. Financial: GI enhance cost reducing and competitive 2. Social: Interested parties require SMEs implement GI 3. Regulation: SMEs was enforced to implement GI by law 4. Economic: Government provide incentive to SMEs 5. Personnel: SMEs have competency personnel in environmental 6. Technology: SMEs have capability of green technology 7. Policy: SMEs completely establish environmentally friendly policy
Section 4: What is the degree of these factors that encourage your organization to implement GI?	Five-point scale (1=total important; 5=total unimportant)
1. Financial: Government subsidize financial to SMEs 2. Incentive: Government provide incentive to SMEs 3. Expertise: Government provide consultant and training to SMEs 4. Technology: Government provide green technology and innovation to SMEs	